Phoenix, Arizona.

July 1, 1922.

ARIZONA CORPORATION COMMISSION,
State House.

Gentlemen :

I respectfully submit herewith the Ninth Annual Report of the Insurance Division for the year ending June 30, 1922.

During the period just mentioned there were thirty-two life, thirty-four miscellaneous and one hundred twenty-four fire companies operating. Twenty fraternal organizations were operating. The admissions during this period were nine in number, segregated, with respect to classes, as follows: Life-2, fire-4, fraternal-1, and miscellaneous-2.

The total premiums collected by the various companies, as shown by annual statements submitted, were $5,074,155.60, as follows :

Life	$2,183,213.70
Fire	2,038,489.01
Miscellaneous	852,452.89

Net losses incurred were as follows:

Life	$ 695,438.65
Fire	1,727,634.03
Miscellaneous	Not given

You will note this report shows a slight decrease in premiums as compared with the receipts of the previous year. Such decrease might, however, be expected as a result of the general depression of industry throughout the country for the past year. As compared with other states, the insurance business in Arizona has been remarkable during this time.

Respectfully submitted,

ETHEL LOOSE,
Assistant Chief Clerk.
